Last time I told you about 'Every week an Edging' on Gon Homburg's web (<http://www.kloskant.com/uk/index-uk.html>). I've taken one of Gon's patterns and turned it in to a Bucks Point and Torchon hexagon and a Torchon bookmark, the original image and my adaptations of the pattern with working diagrams are below (I've taken out the tallies but if you really want to work them feel free...)

Susan

The Torchon patterns are worked in the equivalent of DMC Broder Machine 30 and the Bucks pattern in the equivalent of DMC Broder Machine 50, both patterns need a number of gimps
